MEETING ON FRIDAY NIGHT TO IMPROVE CREDIT AFFAIRS

Chamber of Commerce Committee on Credit Association Will Report

INVESTIGATE SITUATION Will Enable Buyers to Secure Accommodations in This City

The credit committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been investigating the trade situation here and the possibilities of increasing it with safety to merchants and business men generally by extending the credit that is given many residents of Glendale by Los Angeles establishments, has called a mass meeting at the headquarters of the chamber for Friday evening, May 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

It is believed that by the organization of a retail merchants' credit association in Glendale, merchants can be protected and buyers can secure the accommodation they find such a convenience in their trade with Los Angeles. A circular has been sent out to all the business men of the city calling attention to the fact that in being without such an association Glendale is behind other cities of its class in this country, and that it is probably losing thousands of dollars a month which might be kept at home and which are going to Los Angeles.

The committee consists of C. E. Neale, chairman; J. A. Newton, Archie Parker, C. E. McPeck, William L. Moore, H. M. Butts and W. R. Vanderwood. These gentlemen are inviting all the business men of the city to attend the conference whether members of the chamber or not. The slogan they have proposed is: "Double or treble your business by extending credit and establishing a local credit association."

SEARCH ALL NIGHT FOR MAIL ROBBER

(By International News Service)
NAPA, May 12.—Heavily armed with sawed-off shotguns, a posse of deputy sheriffs continued today a search that had lasted throughout the night for Roy Gardner, $87,000 registered mail robber, who escaped from federal authorities by jumping from a train near Portland last June. Gardner is under sentence for 25 years to McNeils Island.

He is believed to be in Garden valley, 30 miles from here and ten miles from Sulist. This section is well suited for hiding, being well wooded, with many hills and valleys.

Gardner came back here to see his wife, according to officials, after having been to Australia following his escape.

He was trapped through a telephone conversation with his wife. Officers listening in heard him tell his wife: "I will never be taken alive. I will give those officers plenty of fight."

The robbery at San Diego was a daring one, the robbery being committed near the post office after the driver of a mail wagon had been bound and gagged.

ARM PULLED OUT AT SOCKET

REDDING, Cal., May 12.—John Muller, railroad man, is en route to a San Francisco hospital today in an effort to save his life, following an accident here last night in which his right arm was jerked out at the shoulder socket and his left hand severed at the wrist. He slipped and fell while coupling cars at Kennet.

Important Step Taken By Boy Scout Council

H. Benjamin Robison, Jr., Appointed Acting Scout Executive on Salary—Charles L. Chandler Is President of Council; Roy L. Kent Secretary

There is general rejoicing among boy scouts of Glendale over the appointment made by the Boy Scout Council at its meeting Tuesday evening, when H. Benjamin Robison, Jr., who has been their inspiration and companion in scout activities, was appointed acting scout executive on salary with the understanding that he will devote all his time to the work in which he is so deeply interested.

The members of this council which is headed by Charles L. Chandler as president, with Roy L. Kent as secretary, feel that Providence has been good to them in placing within their reach this capable young devotee of boy scout principles. Having had opportunity to watch his work along this line they feel confident that he will not only make good but boost the record of scout work in Glendale—all ready famous as having the largest enrollment of Eagle Scouts of any city in the United States.

The new acting executive has received not a few letters of commendation from national officials in the east who have come up from tenderfoot through all the ranks to that of Eagle Scout. He is but a little over 19 years of age and will not be eligible to ap-

ORATORICAL TO BE AT TABERNACLE

For First Time in Years High School Will Have Room
Enough for Event

Joy came to Glendale high with the announcement this morning that the Oratorical, the great big event of the school year, when representatives of the four classes compete for honors, with an accompaniment of original songs, yells, class parades, and class emblems or booths, will take place in the tabernacle on Orange and Harvard streets Friday night.

Before this announcement a scheme was being figured out to admit the audience by lot, since the auditorium of Glendale high accommodates only about 40 per cent of the students desirous of attending, not to mention the outside friends of the school. Now, all that is changed and 1200 tickets are being sold at 25 cents each. The money realized from this sale will go to the treasury of the student body to meet its necessary current expenses.

For the first time in years, Glendale high will have a chance to expand on Oratorical night and for that reason it will probably be the biggest and liveliest Oratorical the school has ever staged.

The orators of the evening are: Francis Read, representative of the senior class, whose theme is "Woodrow Wilson, the Leader"; Dale Wood, representative of the juniors, his theme being "The Golden Rule—the Solution of the Japanese Question"; Kathleen Campbell, sophomore representative, with the theme, "Education—America's Progress and Power"; and Arden Gingery, representing the freshmen with the theme "Abraham Lincoln."

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

FALLON, Nev., May 12.—A. V. Stewart, 70, has just completed a 16-day fast, which he declares has cured his insomnia.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Anthony d'Andrea, political czar of Chicago's stormy Nineteenth ward, died this afternoon in Jefferson Park Hospital from wounds inflicted by gunmen late Tuesday night.

LONDON, May 12.—Colonel George Harvey, new American ambassador to England, was received in audience by King George at Buckingham palace today. Colonel Harvey presented his diplomatic credentials. The American ambassador was carried to and from Buckingham in the royal state coach.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 12.—Police today believe the murder of S. K. Young, a Chinese, here, was another chapter in the feud between the Hip Sing tong and the On Leong tong of San Francisco. Young was shot down last night as he entered his shop, carrying his 10-month-old daughter in his arms.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Three automobile bandits today robbed the State Commercial and Savings Bank of over $7000 in currency. The bandits backed the cashier and three clerks, including a woman, into the bank vault, grabbed all the cash in sight and fled in their car. Automobiles filled with police "shotgun" squads are trailing the bandits.

BERLIN, May 12.—Chancellor Wirth continued today his efforts to find a foreign minister for the new cabinet, whose chief duty will be to carry on diplomatic conversations with the Allies regarding many issues that may grow out of the indemnity situation. The post was offered to Herr Cuno, the German shipping magnate, and to Herr Bergmann of the German reparations committee. It was subsequently learned that Herr Cuno had rejected the offer.

pointment as full scout executive until he is 21. Otherwise he is competent in every respect.

He has been a Boy Scout since 1916 when he enrolled as a tenderfoot in Troop 1 of Paso Robles. For more than two years he has been a worker in Glendale as assistant scoutmaster and executive. He is now resigning a position with the Polytechnic elementary, a high class private school in Pasadena where he was director of manual arts and of scout education, to accept this position in Glendale, his home town. He will have an office in the city hall, beginning with the first of the week and is deep in plans for work which will probably be ready for announcement in the course of a week. A visiting tour will be made of all the troops beginning Friday night, and it will be part of his duty to accompany troops on their hikes and to preside when they take their tests.

Secretary Kent states that a campaign will take place next fall to secure a budget of $4500, which will enable the organization to become a full fledged First Class Council, to enlarge its activities and take higher rank in Scouting.

New Christian Church Building a Certainty

Definite Action Was Taken Last Night on Plans Which Were Approved by Official Board—Bids Will Soon
Be Taken and Work Started This Month

REV. C. A. COLE.

One of the most important meetings of the year, in many respects, was held in Central Christian church last night.

The 6 o'clock supper was attended by more than 100 people. Following this and commencing at 7:15, was an echo meeting of the great tabernacle campaign, during which many testified to their enjoyment of the meetings and told of how they were helped. All spoke in high praise of the evangelist and endorsed his presentation of Bible truths. Nearly 200 attended the service, which was followed by an uplifting sermon by Rev. C. A. Cole, who told of how to conserve the great results of the campaign. Floyd Clark, pianist for John Brown, who was compelled to stay over till this morning, was present and gave a delightful short talk.

Still another meeting was held, commencing at 8:30, and this was the regular monthly meeting of the official board of the church. The finances were found to be in splendid condition and every department functioning very satisfactorily, especially the Bible school, which Superintendent

DISCUSS MILITARY TOURNAMENT PLANS

At a meeting of the executive committee of the proposed military tournament, in Burbank yesterday, reports were heard from the various subcommittees.

That on cooperation reported that practically the entire San Fernando valley, particularly the cities, is very favorably inclined toward the tournament.

The finance committee reported that there will be no trouble in raising funds for immediate use.

The publicity committee had nothing to report as their work will come later.

The committee on grounds had the most important report, which was to the effect that at a meeting held in the high school building, Tuesday, at 3:30, it was decided to secure a tract of land at the junction of San Fernando and Verdugo roads, north of the former and west of the latter, about 2000 acres of open and wooded country, part on the hills. Some clearing would be necessary. The estimated cost is $2000. It is hoped to have the consent of the owners to the use of this property by Saturday next.

MEXICO CITY, May 12.—Austria has formally recognized the present government of Mexico, it was announced by the foreign office today.

A PROBLEM IN RELATIONSHIP

(By International News Service)
SPENCER, Mass., May 12.—Sparking of mix-up families. When Mrs. Catherine DeMarco and Louis Gagner were married here—

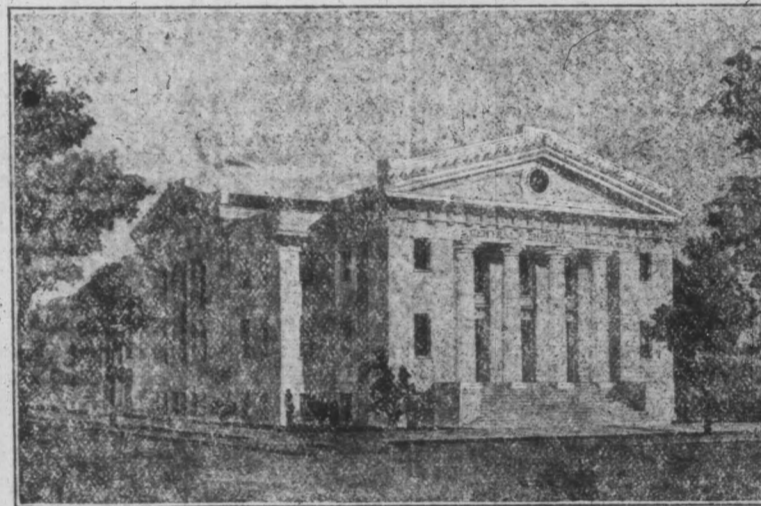

The bride became the sister-in-law of her son-in-law, John Gagner.

The bridegroom became the stepfather of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Gagner's daughter.

John Gagner, brother of Louis, married the new Mrs. Gagner's daughter Jennie some time ago, therefore his new sister-in-law is also his mother-in-law.

Another daughter of Mrs. DeMarco Gagner married another brother of Louis Gagner, who by his marriage to their mother became their stepfather.

GLENDALE TO HAVE ANOTHER BOOST

Big Los Angeles Corporation
With Big Resources to Have Branch Here

Citizens who are ambitious for Glendale, and that means nearly the whole population, are swelling with a new burst of pride over the growth and metropolitan conditions that have brought about the establishment here of a branch of one of the big concerns of Los Angeles, the Southern California Metropolitan Loan Association.

Announcement that it was coming to our city to share with Cole & Damerell, a part of the new building they have just completed on West Broadway, but now, S. L. Roland, who is general manager of the company in Los Angeles, states that his Glendale office will be open for business next Monday, May 24.

This corporation is a consolidation of the Metropolitan Loan Association and the California Loan Association which have been doing business under separate charters for 34 years and have recently consolidated under the title mentioned above. In those 34 years of business they have made a splendid record. They feel proud, and with reason, of the fact that not a dollar of interest or principal has been lost, they own no real estate taken on mortgages, and no delinquent interest is listed on their books.

To understand how this corporation which has a guaranteed capital and surplus of $200,000 and resources exceeding $2,000,000 came to select Glendale as the home of a branch association it is necessary to go back to Mr. Roland, the Los Angeles general manager.

Ever since the 16th day of March Mr. Roland has occupied the beautiful new home he built in Verdugo Woodlands and ever since that date his appreciation of Glendale has been growing. In explaining his enthusiasm for our city he quotes the reply of his wife when he asked her if she was thoroughly satisfied with her home in our city and she answered: "I like it better than any place I ever lived."

Mr. Roland intends to spend a good deal of time at the Glendale branch until it is thoroughly established and in operation, and declares he has come to Glendale to stay and to help all he can in the development of the city for which he predicts a great future.

"Bundle Day" May 25

Get your bundle of old castoff clothes ready for the Scout Boys or school children when they call on "Bundle Day," Wednesday, May 25, in the interest of the Near East Relief. Should no one call that day, see that your bundle gets to the Fire Engine House, as our "Bundle Station," before noon of the 26th. Those living in South Glendale will please take their bundles to the Fire Engine House near Brand on Los Feliz.

most important action taken by the official board, however, was the approving by unanimous vote, of the plans for the new building. This means that bids will be taken soon and ground broken early next month.

The new church will face on Colorado street. The old building will be turned part way around and joined to the new one; it will be thoroughly overhauled and remodelled and will be equipped for the use of the primary department.

The building will be of stucco, and will conform in its type of architecture to buildings in the neighborhood of its location, notably those of the high school across the street.

The main church auditorium will be supplemented by a commodious gallery. Underneath the entire building there will be a basement, to contain a kitchen, equipped with ranges, steam tables and every other needed modern appliance. This kitchen will adjoin the large banquet hall, which will seat 300.

The plans provide for numerous department rooms where various departments of the church may hold separate sessions; large men's and women's rooms, a ladies' missionary room, a ladies' aid room are among these. Well equipped Sunday school rooms, a baptistry, lavatories for men and women, are other features that will contribute to making the new building an efficient working plant.

The new Christian church will be one of the handsomest in Glendale and one to which residents of the city may point with pride.

PLEASURE TRIP OF PARTY TO ALGERIA

Tales of a traveler were in order yesterday, when Mrs. J. H. Braly, 505 North Brand boulevard, had as her house guest Miss Marian Patrick, of Santa Barbara.

Most interesting tales they were, too, for Miss Patrick has just returned from a four months' pleasure trip to Algeria. She was one of a party of seven who enjoyed their rare pleasure at the invitation of her fellow-townswoman, Mrs. James Hobart Moore.

With a special guide to conduct the tour, the party went by automobile 2000 miles into the interior. Contrary to their expectation, they met with cold weather, the coldest in 40 years, they were told. The flora of the country resembles that of California, though it is not so beautiful, the natives are ignorant and unprogressive, and the children's chief occupation seemed to be the herding of goats.

Miss Patrick returned today to her home in Santa Barbara.

THE SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

Mr. Voter: Remember the School Bond Election, May 24, 1921, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.; polling places, Central avenue school for those living north of Doran street; Cerritos avenue school for those living south of Windsor road; Intermediate school for those living between these two streets. Amount of proposed issue, $199,000.

This amount is absolutely necessary to put our schools on a good working condition and take care of the tremendous growth that Glendale has had in the last two years.

Remember that the cost to you is small. If these bonds are voted it will increase your tax rate, 16 cents or less on the $100; that is to say, if you are the owner of a home worth $5000 assessed at 40 per cent of its value, the cost to you of these bonds for the first year would be $3.20.

The benefits far outweigh the cost. Do not fail to go to the polls and vote.

SITE PURCHASED BY NEW CONCERN

Preparations Will Begin at Once to Manufacture the Ever Ready Heater

A new industry which will be welcomed in Glendale is to be established on San Fernando road near Vine street on a site of four and a fraction acres, which have been purchased for the erection of a plant to manufacture the Ever Ready Automatic Water Heater. This has been largely manufactured in Los Angeles where the parent plant is located, but having outgrown facilities there, branch plants are being established in outside towns.

As soon as the Southern Pacific company puts in a siding, the construction of the plant will begin. It is expected to employ 50 men in the beginning and more later on.

The officials of the company are: John B. Rives, president of Los Angeles; Oscar Smith, of same city, first vice president; H. E. Gilley, second vice president, who will be general manager of the Glendale plant. W. B. Howard, vice president of the Continental National bank of Los Angeles, heads the directorate.

JAPAN DECIDES TO RETURN PROVINCE

(By International News Service)
TOKYO, Japan, May 12.—Reports published in the United States that Japan has decided to return the province of Shantung to China immediately and unconditionally, brought no comment from the foreign office here, officials declining even to make an unofficial statement on the subject.

Moreover, it is known here in well-informed circles, that Japan has been hoping China would begin negotiations for the return of Shantung. China has to date declined to do so on the grounds that she refused to recognize Japan's control over the province. This attitude has been consistently maintained by China ever since the award by the peace conference of the province to Japan.

The opening of negotiations by China with Japan would therefore be pleasing to the Japanese government because such action would constitute recognition by China of the validity of the Shantung award.

It is understood here that the Japanese government feels that the same principle is involved in both the Shantung and Yap questions. In the latter case the United States has challenged the validity of the Yap mandate awarded to Japan.

The primary desire, it is understood, of Japan is for recognition in both instances of the validity of Japan's claims, the impression prevailing that settlement of the issues involved in both cases can be expected to follow such recognition.

NOMINATING PETITIONS MUST STILL BE FILED

At the meeting of the federation of parent-teacher associations Wednesday, Superintendent White called attention to the fact that in order to elect members of the board of education which the new charter provides, nominating petitions must be filed in exactly the same manner as in the election of city trustees. These petitions must be signed by not less than 57 registered voters. Petitions must be circulated for each one. He also stated they could be circulated any time after May 19 and they must be on file in the office of the city clerk by June 3. One person, he said, would need to secure the 57 names because they would have to certify to the correctness of the signatures, and would have to be appointed by the candidate.

Chautauqua Lecture On Marvelous Invention

"Electricity" Subject of Lecture Given Last Evening by Burnell Ford, Scientist and Inventor of Delicate
Instrument for Guiding Aviators at Night

The magic story of the invisible force of electricity and the marvelous new inventions that have sprung into being because of man's ever-increasing knowledge of this force formed the theme of a most interesting and instructive lecture given by Burnell Ford at the opening of the Ellison-White Chautauqua last evening.

Mr. Ford is an electrical scientist and inventor of note. One of his important inventions is a delicate instrument for guiding aviators at night or when they are lost in fog and cannot get their bearings. Mr. Ford began work on this invention during the war and if he had completed it before the conflict was over, it would have enabled our aviators to sail unseen in the darkest night and drop bombs on the enemy.

Another of his inventions is a device for coast defence; by means of magnetic waves of varying lengths enemy vessels may be bombed while defenders on the shore remain in perfect safety.

Mr. Ford maintains that before the earth's supply of oil and water power become inadequate to the needs of the world, man will have learned to

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS NOW CONFRONTING GREAT BRITAIN

Nation Becomes Alarmed at Situation, Which Has Become Serious

REVOLUTION IS FEARED

Chaotic Condition in Industrial World Is Simply Appalling

By EARLE C. REEVES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 12.—Great Britain's industrial crisis has become so acute that the nation is threatened with revolution unless there is an early solution of the troubles. Inflammatory agitators are stirring up unrest among the military reservists and the whole situation was viewed with the utmost alarm today by "The City," the financial heart of the empire.

The present crisis—involving the possibility of a general strike throughout the United Kingdom and the further possibility of mutinous outbreaks among the military reservists—was viewed as surpassing in seriousness the general strike threat of three weeks ago. There is every indication that the struggle has now developed beyond a fight for higher wages.

"The chaotic condition of the industrial world is simply appalling," declared Horatio Bottomley, M. P., today. "Until some permanent machinery of peace can be devised we shall never be removed by more than a hair's breadth from unspeakable disaster. Unless we have wholly lost our sanity, the industrial peace treaty will be on the statute books within the space of a few months."

'MYSTERY WOMAN' DIVORCE SCANDAL

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 12.—Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, "mystery woman" in the Stillman divorce scandal, will be placed on the witness stand by Mrs. Stillman's attorneys—if she can be found. Process servers were today said to be scouring certain parts where the former Century Roof "chicken" has been variously reported in hiding.

It is the plan of Mrs. Stillman's counsel to have James A. Stillman, the multi-millionaire plaintiff, present when they examine the woman whom his wife in her counter action has named as co-respondent.

Another woman, as yet unnamed, is said to figure prominently in a second amended answer now being prepared by attorneys for Mrs. Stillman. It will be charged that Stillman lived with this woman in Garden City, L. I., during parts of 1917, 1918 and 1919, mostly, it is alleged, under an assumed name.

The next hearing before Referee Gleason is scheduled for a week from today.

GUEST AT CALIFORNIA CLUB

J. H. Braly will be a guest at the banquet to be given at the California Club in Los Angeles, May 17, for Sons of the American Revolution of which he is a member. It will be a big affair. On the same day Mrs. Braly will be entertained with other D. A. R. officers at Southern California at the home of Mrs. Lyman Stookey, state vice regent.

use the dormant energies in the world about him to generate heat, light and power. He demonstrated by delicate machinery that light may be converted to electricity, and predicted that man would some day generate electric light from the energy of the sun, and that he would run machinery by the same power.

The experiments and demonstrations were interesting and Mr. Ford's talk was no dry exposition of scientific facts, but was marked by humor and entertaining anecdotes.

A crowd that taxed the capacity of the great tent greeted the lecturer and showed intense interest throughout the evening.

FINE PROGRAM AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

The entire program at the Chautauqua this afternoon is devoted to the jollity, fun and music of the Roach-Freeman duo. In story-telling, character sketches and song, Ada Roach is inimitable and Ruth Freeman's mimicry, dialect numbers and violin selections, share the honors on this program. This evening at 7:30 sharp, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who has done such heroic and important work in geographical research in the Arctic regions, will tell of his life and experiences there. This is said to be one of the greatest treats of the entire course.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, F. R. Drexler will lecture on "The Glory of America."

The afternoon's program tomorrow includes a prelude by the Orpheus Four and the only humorous lecture of the week, by Marshall Louis Meritts, for several years the conductor of the "Colony" in the Kansas City Star.

Tomorrow night, beginning at 7:30 sharp, the Orpheus Four will give an evening of rare musical pleasure. This quartet of singers hails from Los Angeles. They won the $3000 prize in the musical festival at the San Francisco exposition over other artists from all parts of the United States, and were chosen by the Chautauqua management as the best male quartet anywhere obtainable.

It was announced last evening that evening performances would begin at 7:30 sharp, afternoon performances at 3:30, to accommodate school children.

A vote of the people will be taken at the end of the week to determine which lecture given was the most popular.

ENGLISH KING GIVEN VERDICT FOR $23,041.71

(By International News Service) PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 12.—The King of Great Britain won a verdict for $23,041.71 in the United States district court here, a jury returning a finding for that sum in a suit brought against the Taft Pierce Manufacturing company of Woonsocket, R. I., for $50,000 damages.

Breach of contract in the manufacture of gauges for machine guns was alleged against the defendant.

BUILDING PLANS OF HOWARD WALKER

Central Building and New Broadway Structure Will Be Unified

The contract for the reconstruction of the Central building to make it fit the needs of the Glendale State bank to occupy it in July, has been awarded and the contractor states that it will be a very up-to-date banking house when completed. The same firm also has the contract for the construction of the Howard Walker building which adjoins the Central building on the east. It will be two stories in height and will be of brick and uniform in appearance with the other. The central staircase on Broadway will serve the two structures, but the entrance will be rebuilt. There will also be an entrance on Maryland.

The space below will be divided into three rooms, one of which will be occupied as a ticket office and waiting station by the Glendale-Montrose railroad, one as a barber shop, and on the Maryland side will be a market. The upper floor will be partitioned into offices.

Renovation will also take place in the automobile salesroom which is being vacated by the Chevrolet Agency. That firm has purchased a site at 510 East Broadway, next to W. B. Kirk, and will erect a building in the near future.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT READING CIRCLE

The Wednesday session of the reading circle at the city library was well attended, but comparatively uneventful. Mrs. C. H. Crawford before lunch gave a review of the last installment of H. G. Wells' "The Salvaging of Civilization." She also read from "The Prestons Growing Up," and submitted her annual report, to be transmitted to the P. T. A. federation.

After luncheon, Mrs. H. V. Henry read the finishing chapter of "The Biography of a Baby." The succeeding study book which will be taken up at the next meeting is "Where Children Err," by Elizabeth Harrison. Mrs. Crawford's report showed that the circle has a present membership of about 200; that the books it has been reading this year have been approved by the government and that another list similarly approved will be taken up next year.

The books read have included: "The Right of a Child to Be Well Born," by Oppenheim; "Essentials of Character," by Bruere; "Your Boy, His Nature and Nurture," by Dickerson; "The Biography of a Baby," by Margaret Shinn, the last book in the list which is yet to be read being "When Children Err," by Elizabeth Harrison. Besides these, educational articles from periodicals have been read.

The interest in the reading circle has brought many inquiries to which members have responded. The report, stated that La Crescenta had been visited, also Garvanza, Compton, Norwalk, Pasadena and Puente, and that Hermosa Beach, Garvanza, Pasadena and Puente have formed circles. This report was submitted at the P. T. A. federation annual meeting.

BRIDGES ORDERED; MATERIAL LOWER

The awarding of contracts for the construction of three concrete bridges in Los Angeles county, as announced by the advisory board of the state engineering department yesterday, demonstrated that the cost of building material has fallen greatly. Two of the bridges to be constructed are not far from Glendale and this city has a direct interest in them. They will make possible the completion of the last link in the Foothill boulevard, that from Sunland to San Fernando. One is to span the Big Tujunga, and is to be 900 feet long and the contract price is $94,927.55, while the estimate was $129,366. The other is over on the south branch of the same stream, and the accepted bid is $23,263, while the estimate of the cost was $35,193.75. The third bridge will span the Rio Hondo, near Whittier. The estimated cost of this was $117,300.70, while the bid that secured the contract was $77,521.55.

MARINE STRIKE SAID TO BE CONSPIRACY

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 12.—The present marine strike is the result of an "international conspiracy to drive the American merchant marine off the high seas," according to charges made today by Andrew Furuseth, head of the Seamen's Union, in a brief presented to Secretary of Labor, Davis.

Furuseth's brief, 55 pages in length, goes into the shipping situation at great length and characterizes the present labor controversy as a "lock-out" and charges that it is the result of international influences, seeking to damage the American merchant marine.

Furuseth declared that he would seek a hearing before congress and would "prove" his charges.

Heinie reflects sadly that the reason the quality of mercy is not strained is because it hasn't exerted itself any.

RHUBARB RECIPES

Rhubarb is a very choice and favorite food, of the spring. It is an unusually pretty plant, with its wide circular leaves and pinkish color stems. It spreads out considerably in growth and no garden is complete without it. A food which can be relished at almost any hour of the day or night, whether eaten alone, or in combination with other foods, always very delicious for this reason hardly anyone ever dislikes eating it. The following are a few ways in which rhubarb can be served:

Rhubarb Custard—Two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, blended in a little cold water, one cupful of white sugar, one-third cupful of butter, stir together and pour on gradually one quart of boiling water, stirring constantly. Add the yolks of three eggs beaten light and keep over the fire until thick; when cold add five tablespoonfuls of stewed rhubarb well sweetened, put in cups, beat the white of the three eggs with three tablespoonfuls of sugar, add to each cup and brown. Flavor with either orange or lemon.

Rhubarb Blanc Manger—Two pounds of rhubarb, cut up; three pints of water; cook 15 minutes, strain and add one cup of sugar or more if desired; add a little over one-half cupful of sage and cook 20 minutes. Put into a mould or in small moulds and set on ice to harden.

Rhubarb Cream—Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch in a little water, add the juice and grated rind of half a lemon and one cupful of sugar; on this pour two and a half cupfuls of hot water; add the beaten yolks of two eggs and one whole egg. Cook in a double boiler until it thickens like custard, stirring constantly; when cool frost with two whites and brown in oven. When slightly cooled completely cover the top with stewed rhubarb, and eat with sponge cake.

Rhubarb Fancy—Make one quart of rich cream very sweet, grate half a nutmeg over, put into a glass dish, then beat very stiff three egg whites add half a cupful of powdered sugar and one cupful of sweetened boiled rhubarb; beat all well together and serve on small cubes of sponge cake.

Rhubarb Pudding—One quart of stewed rhubarb drained of all juice, three-fourths of a cup of sugar, half a teaspoonful of vanilla, one pint of milk, three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of flour and a pinch of salt. Put the milk in a double boiler, set on the fire; beat together sugar, flour, salt and eggs; stir this into the mixture of the boiling milk; cook for 15 minutes, stirring often; take from the fire, add the vanilla, set the bowl in a cool place. When the cream is cold add the rhubarb and stir well. Stand the pudding on ice for an hour. Turn into a glass dish to serve.

Rhubarb-Orange Favorite—Fill a glass dish with layers of sliced oranges and stewed rhubarb quite cold; sprinkle with grated cocoanut, if desired; sweeten well. Make a custard with a pint of milk, two eggs, a little flour or cornstarch, half cupful of sugar, not to make it stiff but a little thicker; pour the custard over the fruit. The white beaten stiff with four tablespoonfuls of sugar can be dropped in spoonfuls over the top. Serve very cold.

Rhubarb Meringue—Put in a saucepan a quart of milk, half a tablespoonful of cornstarch smoothly mixed, half a cup of sugar and the beaten yolks of four eggs; set this over boiling water and when nearly boiling remove at once. When cold stir in half a cupful of stewed rhubarb and turn into a glass dish; cover the top with meringue made from the whipped whites of the eggs and serve with lady fingers and whipped cream.

"OLD FLY" AND HER FRIENDS

"Old Fly" felt very proud as she stood under the large oak tree in front of Bethesda church. She was decked in flags and received much attention from the assembling crowd. It was Memorial Day. The farmers and their families and many from the village three miles away had come to decorate the graves of the soldiers who had fought in the civil war.

Near by stood "Old Nell," who belonged to the undertaker and postmaster of the village. She was hitched to the family buggy, for this was many years ago, before the time of automobiles.

The old soldiers were forming in line, and the children were ready with their baskets of flowers to march to the cemetery just back of the church. The band from the village had begun to play.

"Where is 'Buffalo Bill'?" asked Old Fly, anxiously. "His master, the doctor, never fails to come and bring the children. I look forward to the day when I can greet my friends."

"Listen, I think I hear Buffalo Bill's friendly nicker," answered Old Nell. "Yes, they are coming up the hill. Buffalo Bill sees us; he is coming this way."

"Whoa, Bill," said the doctor, as they reached the oak tree. "We are late, children. Anne, you and Helen take the flowers and get into line. They are ready to march to the cemetery. Anne, you must help with the singing. Boys, be quiet during the services."

They all hurried to join the crowd. Buffalo Bill looked enviously at Old Fly. "I think we should be decorated with flags, too, for our masters both fought in the Civil War. My master was very young when he enlisted, and because of his knowledge of medicine he was put in the regimental hospital."

"Yes," replied Old Nell. "My master was wounded at the battle of Shiloh, and his friend who is with him today (he calls him Mack) carried him off the battle-field and saved his life."

"Well," boasted Old Fly, proudly. "I am known as the war horse. My master and I served in the First Indiana Cavalry, and I was ridden by him in every battle in which the regiment was engaged. How well I remember the day my master rode me away! I was a young horse then, scarcely five years old. How eagerly I galloped off, now knowing where I was going! We were in many battles together, neither of us receiving a wound, but we endured many hardships. I could not have stood those hardships if my master had not been so kind to me. I can never forget the roar of the cannon and the flying of shot near us. It was dreadful to see horses shot down and left on the field of battle, though some were not dead. I sometimes think I can hear their pitiful moans. I have heard that all the horses that were seriously wounded were shot after the battle was over that they might be relieved of their suffering, and those that had only been slightly wounded were taken back to camp where they were given attention. I feel sad when I think of so much suffering." Old Fly sighed deeply.

Buffalo Bill and Old Nell had heard this story many times, but they listened patiently. There was silence for a few moments.

"I see the doctor with his children coming. They have finished decorating the graves," remarked Buffalo Bill. "I see my master with three of his girls and his friend who saved his life on the battle-field," said Old Nell.

Old Fly was sad. "We shall have to part, perhaps I shall never see you again. I am old, very old, my master says. If it were not for his kind treatment and good care I would not be living now. How thankful we should be that we have such kind masters. It is said a bad-tempered man makes a bad-tempered horse, and it is true."

The conversation ceased; the doctor and his children were getting in the buggy.

Old Fly watched them drive away. "I hope the children will be as kind to their horses as were their fathers. How glad I was to see Buffalo Bill and Old Nell! They are full of life yet; I am old, I may never see them again. My master is coming."

"Old Fly, my good old comrade," said her master as he untied the hitching strap. "We are the first to come and the last to leave. A good dinner of oats is waiting for you. With a joyful whimpy Old Fly rubbed her nose against her master's face."

MULES IN THE WORLD WAR

The poor, despised army mule, whose dynamite-like disposition and active hind legs have won him such an objectionable reputation, was just as efficient in his own little capacity as any other functionary of the late world war.

Many a dark night near the front, when shelling started in our vicinity, the unfortunate mules were often subjected to very disagreeable conditions. In some cases receiving such wounds in the legs as to necessitate shooting them before we resumed our march to the front lines. On some nights, when the enemy was unusually active with his artillery, my company lost as many as 11 head of horses and mules during a single barrage.

In some instances I have observed remarkable intelligence displayed by mules.

One afternoon in a small patch of woods, where my company was temporarily quartered, the inevitable shelling started with a reality that made us think of home. A small French village lay to our right and in there the barrage had begun, gradually creeping toward our vicinity and jeopardizing a group of helpless mules that belonged to an artillery outfit. The poor animals seemed to scent the danger, for their ears twitched and they grew restless.

Unfortunately, a shell screamed into their midst and burst. I watched, anxiously, to see if any fell, but not a mule went down.

After a series of jumps and leaps, as they were tied, one little fellow seemed to have got loose and trotted over toward another member of the company and myself. When he reached us he stopped before us and looked straight into our eyes as though pleading for aid. We examined his wounds and found that he had received shrapnel injuries about the neck, right side and ears, his halter having been severed by a fragment of shrapnel.

We appreciated the animal's intelligence and led him to our regimental surgeon, who dressed his wounds in plenty of bandages. Later in the day I saw him munching grass as coolly as though nothing unusual had occurred, his long ears bobbing around in the white bandages. The next day my company moved from the woods, and I often wondered what became of the wounded mule.

Like our indefatigable war horses, the hard-working little mules were on the job whenever there was real labor to be accomplished, and, aside from an occasional spell of stubborn balkiness, they performed their duties with satisfaction.

BANKER CAN HELP BRING BUSINESS BACK SAYS FINANCE EXPERT

NEW YORK, May 12.—Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, speaking at a recent meeting of the bankers club of Brooklyn, said:

"There has been a decline without parallel in the prices of all kinds of goods and commodities. Bank loans have steadily declined since the beginning of this year and reserves in some parts of the country are now building up to satisfactory figures, but, even with this improvement in the banking situation, there is still a most serious condition in industry. The foremost among the industries which are suffering is the great fundamental industry of agriculture."

"It is the obligation of the banker today to determine in what direction he can properly and conservatively stimulate business by giving encouragement and confidence to the producers and merchants who depend upon him for advice and for funds. If it is true, as I believe that stocks are abnormally low, that merchants, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, who a year ago could not obtain enough goods at high prices, are now unwilling to carry their usual stocks at low prices, it is the obligation of the banker to endeavor to remedy this situation. It seems to me that, at the present time, no other single thing would contribute more to the restoration of business in a sound and conservative manner than the resumption of the carrying of normal stocks in proportion to the probable needs of consumers."

"Another obligation with which the bankers may properly charge themselves in the public interest is that of devising effective measures for eliminating the swindling promotion schemes which cost the people huge sums at regular and frequent intervals."

"I deem it to be a real obligation of the bankers of this country to co-operate with the government in working out a program by which the meaning of thrift may be brought home to every man, woman and child; and this should be done, in part, through the savings system of the United States government and, in great part, through the stock and mutual savings banks. Neither the private nor the government institutions can do it all, or do it alone, but it is certainly a reflection upon our management of the situation that the government at this time, instead of raising money from the savings of the people, should be called upon to pay out $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 a month, thus materially adding to our financial burdens in this difficult period."

OLD CARS REPLACED WITH NEW ONES

A deal has just been completed between the Baker Ford Rental Company, located at 201-203 East Broadway, and Jesse E. Smith, local Ford dealer for the delivery of three new Ford touring cars and one Ford coupe to replace the cars used at present by Mr. Baker. This is an indication that there is an increasing call for rented cars that is keeping pace with the tremendous demand for Fords by private parties as shown by the volume of sales at the Ford Agency in the last few months.

Mr. Baker has had a wide experience in renting cars to the public, with and without drivers. Any person of experience such as his will say that the acid test of a car is in renting; cars to let people drive themselves, that is why the Ford is his choice. Low upkeep, greater utility, greater roadability, longer life, all of these things must be considered in the buying of cars for his business in order to come out ahead when the profits are figured up.

The heavy demand in Glendale for cars to rent by people who want to drive themselves, Mr. Smith says will insure a good substantial business for Mr. Baker in the coming year.

SEQUOIA CABINETS FOR PHONOGRAPH RECORDS

Glendale is a music center. Not only is it the home of many cultivated professional and amateur musicians, but it is the residence of thousands of unpretending music lovers who satisfy their cravings to some extent by phonographic records and who accumulate in most instances quite a library of them. Everybody knows what a nuisance it is to search a pile of records to find some particular selection desired and also knows how Automatic Record File, a receptacle tending around unprotected.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS ENTERTAIN GUESTS

At the regular session of Glendale Lodge, No. 331, K. of P., on Tuesday evening, Chancellor Commander Emil E. Framm, presided over an unusually interesting meeting.

A live bunch of fraternal acrobats from the Miramonte Lodge was present and added dignity to the ceremonies of the Esquire Rank.

J. A. Spence assisted, the K. of R. & S., and also made an excellent report on the district convention.

All of the visitors made speeches under O. O. T. O.

The Knight Rank is to be put on at the next meeting.

Grand Chancellor Commander J. Stanley Brown will make the principal address at the Annual Memorial Service of the Pythian Order on Sunday, June 5, at 2:30 p. m., at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

TREAT AT CHAMBER COMMERCE FORUM

Secretary Rhoades of the chamber of commerce feels that he has a great treat in store for those who attend the Forum dinner next week, May 19, at the High school cafeteria. The speaker is to be Nelson Rhoades of the firm of Garfield & Rhoades. He is an orator of considerable reputation and for that reason his speech will be entertaining, but more important is the fact that he is a recognized authority on Mexico and the Mexican situation with relation to the United States.

He and his partner, who is a son of President Garfield, are Mexican counselors. They have spent many years in business and professional life in that country making a study of it. They are also authorities on municipal questions in the United States, their advice being much in request.

CITY PUBLIC LIBRARY

There is a general feeling of dissatisfaction on the part of Glendale residents at the inadequacy of the appropriation for the public library. When $12,000, approximately, was expended for upkeep of the building and salaries of employees—and they get little enough—there remains but a small part of the $15,000 appropriation for the buying of books.

Glendale has outgrown the stage in which she can afford to maintain an indifferent attitude in this matter. The public library has been called the people's university. It would take quite a stretch of the imagination to apply this term to Glendale's public library. As a working library—a reference library—it certainly leaves much to be desired. Our progressive, keen-minded body of high school students must look with vexation or spirit at the fine copies of the "Reader's Guide," when he knows from experience in looking up references in it that the most valuable of the bound volumes of standard magazine, for instance, to which his references direct him are conspicuous on our library shelves by their absence. The same sense of disappointment must be felt by the clubwoman seeking subject-matter for a paper, the adult student following some line of study for self-improvement, and the business man seeking information on some business problem. All these departments of service Glendale residents have a right to expect from the public library, if it is to keep pace with the growth of the city in other lines. All these phases of library service Glendale residents would get (for there is no fault to find with the staff) if the library appropriation was not so niggardly.

To other disadvantages in this stingy scheme of things might be mentioned: the handicap to our school children and the opportunity lost for a wonderful influence in the Americanization of the foreigner. The function of the public library as a continuation school has not been fully recognized. The public library, not only in Glendale, but also in other cities, plays as yet only a small part in the lives of children who have left school to go to work. In so far as any library fails to do this it fails in its duty to that class for which it has always been primarily intended—those unable to take advantage of formal education. To properly function a library must be equipped with books; it must also give thoughtful study to the needs and desires of these children and devise ways of winning them to an interest in books.

A library may be a most potent agency for socializing knowledge in a modern democracy. The immigrant seldom takes to American fiction. He ardently desires to be practical, being mainly interested in reading that which would help make him a success in his new country. The library may advise him as to what books are most useful to him; it may encourage the cultivation of reading among the immigrants as an efficient means for their general education and, through this, of their Americanization.

This is but a part of the program of an efficient library. If the Glendale public library is to approach anywhere near these ideals of its valuable possibilities of service to the community, Glendale voters must be liberal in their library appropriation.

LOCAL MERCHANTS AND CREDIT SITUATION

It is believed by the credit committee of the Chamber of Commerce that the credit privileges extended Glendale residents by the Los Angeles business establishments and the lack of extension of such privilege by Glendale business houses to their responsible townsmen are, together, militating against the business growth of Glendale; that thousands of dollars which might be spent here at home go, month by month, into the coffers of Los Angeles merchants, simply because reliable people of this city trade with Los Angeles merchants who extend them credit privileges. So strong is this opinion in the minds of the committee that they have adopted as their slogan, "Double or Treble Your Business by Extending Credit and Establishing a Local Credit Association."

Credit is a vital factor in retail merchandising. Merchants whose credit accounts run from 30 to 80 per cent of their total business admit that they would be able to hold but a small part of this trade if they did not give credit. The public has become so accustomed to this method of trading—which has built by far the larger percentage of the great commercial enterprises of today—that even the small dealer finds the extension of credit a necessity in building up a business.

But, to maintain a credit business successfully, the danger of bad debts has to be coped with efficiently. Fully 50 per cent of the applicants for retail credit have no tangible assets—their personal reputation and past record are their only recommendations for the privilege they are asking. Organization is, therefore, the only efficient means of meeting this situation. To this end business men of a community must meet one another, become friends, exchange confidences and forewarn each other of the danger of giving credit to those who have proven themselves not to be trustworthy.

A Retail Credit Men's Association, supporting a central bureau or clearing house, either privately owned or operated by the merchants themselves, is the distinguishing characteristic of an efficient organization of retail merchants. Here ledger information may be exchanged and members meet regularly to discuss their problems.

Credit men conversant with all phases of the trade say that the city that has no credit association is a standing invitation to the undesirable element to come and settle down and not settle up. Merchants in such towns, these credit experts aver, are prone to selfishness, narrowness and exclusiveness because they do not know each other. They do not expand and grow as do those in places where the retailers, while competitors in merchandising, are willing to cooperate in other things. There is no branch of the retail business, they further point out, in which cooperation, fair dealing and exchange of information have a greater field for action than that pertaining to the granting of credit.

Why feel so blue? The worst has never happened and never will.

GRAVE AND GAY

BE STILL!

They were on a honeymoon trip. The bridegroom felt indisposed and the bride slipped out to do a little shopping. In due time she returned and tripped blithely up to her room, a little awed by the number of doors that looked alike. But she was sure of her own and tapped gently on the panel.

"I'm back, honey, let me in."
No answer.
"Honey, honey, let me in!" she called again, rapping louder, still no answer.

"Honey, honey, it's me. Let me in."
There was silence for several seconds; then a man's voice, cold and full of dignity, came from the other side of the door.
"Madame, this is not a beehive; it's a bathroom."—Judge.

P.-T. A. FEDERATION FESTIVAL PLANS

P.-T. A. committees are meeting to gather up the loose ends in plans for the festival to be held on the grounds of the John Robert White home, May 20. Requests for donations to the grab bag, and the prizes to be offered for pet animals shown and for the children's parade, show that some program is in prospect. Each Parent-Teacher Association is expected to have a booth and to provide two program numbers.

R. R. COMMISSION HEARING LA RAMADA

The hearing at La Ramada before Railroad Commissioner Loveland of testimony relative to the lowering of the Pacific Electric tracks, petitioned for by the Casa Verdugo Welfare Association has been set for May 16, at 2 o'clock, and a strong effort is being made to persuade every person interested to be there. This hearing has been postponed a time or two, but the promise is given that this time it will come off without fail.

STILL IN EGG FORM

"Do you know," remarked a Boston business man, "that I once had a craze to be an actor? In fact I was on the stage for awhile, until I discovered I was not suited to it."
"A little bird told you, I suppose," said his friend.

"Well, no, not exactly," replied the business man, "but I have an idea it might have been a bird if it had been allowed to hatch."—Boston Transcript.

YOU BET!

"Just what is an efficiency expert anyway?" asked the Old Fogey, as he looked up from the newspaper he was reading.

"An efficiency expert is a man who when he sees that an employee is doing his best, tells him that he isn't doing very well," replied the grouchy Cincinnati Enquirer.

COULDN'T OBLIGE

"That a plucky pedestrian, anyhow?"

"What did he do?"

"Dared the man who ran over him to try it again."

"Did the motorist accept the challenge?"

"No. He said it nearly broke his heart to pass up a chance like that, but he was on his way to meet a train."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FREE AS A BIRD

"Does your wife influence your vote?"

"Not at all," replied Mr. Meekton. "Henrietta wants me to vote according to my own ideas; but it is remarkable how thoroughly my views always coincide with hers after she has taken the trouble to express them and to assure me that she is perfectly willing to go on elucidating until I fully comprehend."—Washington Star.

Harold Lloyd's latest comedy, "I'll Tell the World," will be a three-reeler.

HOLD CONFERENCE FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Following the great County Sunday School convention, to be held in the First Presbyterian church, Pasadena, May 19-20, the Los Angeles County Sunday School Association will hold a conference in the same church for Older Boys and Older Girls, May 21-22. Delegates are limited to 300. Each church is expected to elect three older boys and three older girls and one adult leader to attend the above conference. The theme of the conference is "The Jesus Way of Living."

This conference is being called for the purpose of developing leadership for the "Kingdom's sake and not merely for leadership's sake." Pastors, superintendents and parents ought to appreciate this opportunity of having some of the key leaders of their young people come in contact with many national and state leaders in Sunday school work.

See that your delegates are elected and the registration fee of $1 each sent to the Los Angeles County Sunday School office, 411 Columbia building, Los Angeles.

All delegates will be entertained on the Harvard plan (lodging and breakfast).

HEATED SESSION AT "DODGER" INQUIRY

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Another heated session developed today when Col. John E. Hunt, commandant of the disciplinary barracks at Fort Jay, resumed the stand in the Bergdoll investigation to testify concerning the escape of the notorious draft dodger. Members of the committee plied Colonel Hunt with questions concerning the manner in which Bergdoll was allowed to go from the prison guarded by only two non-commissioned officers.

To them all, Colonel Hunt replied that he was "not guilty" of the implied charge that he has assisted in the escape through negligence as a commanding officer.

FIRE DAMAGE WILL EXCEED A MILLION

Youngstown Experiences the Heaviest Loss by Fire in Its History

(By International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 12.--The heaviest loss by fire in the history of Youngstown resulted early today from a blaze that destroyed a lumber yard and ten other buildings on the outskirts of the business section. Damage will exceed $1,000,000, it is estimated.

The fire started shortly after 1 o'clock this morning and was not under control until several hours later. Train traffic through Youngstown on the Erie railroad was tied up for several hours and all street car service was blocked.

Most of the city was in darkness for three hours.

Explosions of gasoline tanks of automobiles in a garage that was destroyed caused the calling out of police reserves to keep back the crowds that gathered.

An investigation was begun by city authorities to determine if the fire was of incendiary origin.

"HOSPITAL DAY" FOR OPERATION
"Hospital Day" is marked by the new Reseach hospital as the date of its first operation. The patient is Mrs. Annie Ward, 1234 East Broadway, who has been waiting for the completion of the new hospital, in order that she might have much needed treatment there.

New Officers Elected and Official Reports Received—Vote to Send Mrs. J. R. White to State Convention at Oakland—Annual Conference Luncheon

The excellent attendance at the annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher Federation, which was held at Intermediate Wednesday afternoon, afforded the best of proof of the vital interest in this organization.

Mrs. John Robert White presided in her characteristic manner. While she is a fine parliamentarian, she has a pleasant way of dispensing with formality and converting what might otherwise be a dry session into a friendly conference.

F. I. Drexler, director of the Chautauqua, was given a few minutes in which to address the ladies on the fine programs in his course this year. He dwelt on the problem which parents have to face of providing proper amusement for their children, and how nearly the Chautauqua offerings come to meeting that demand.

Annual Conference Luncheon
Mrs. White brought up the matter of the proposed conference to take the place of the annual picnic and a fresh vote sustained the decision of a previous session, to meet at the First Methodist church for a luncheon and program, June 7, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., the luncheon to be served at 60 cents a plate. Mrs. White announced that Mrs. Dow of Chicago, who addressed the Tuesday Afternoon Club this week, would probably make a talk on "Thrifty" as promoted by organizations in the Windy City.

Official Reports
Reports were then in order. The treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Plaster, reported $102.45 in the treasury, and all bills paid to date. The parliamentarian, Mrs. A. H. Brown, reported assisting at the organization of the Magnolia P. T. A., the drafting of a model constitution to be used by P. T. A.'s, the establishment of three classes in parliamentary law. Other interesting reports were submitted by Mrs. Kuehny, recording secretary; Mrs. H. V. Brown, corresponding secretary; and by the presidents of the 11 federated associations, beginning with Mrs. Esselman, president of the Acadia mothers' club, followed by the reports of Mrs. Horning, of the Broadway association; Mrs. Campbell of Central avenue; Mrs. E. B. Moore of Geronimo street; Mrs. H. V. Henry of Columbus avenue; Mrs. Diederich of Doran street; Mrs. H. W. Varick of Glendale high; Mrs. H. V. Brown of Intermediate; Mrs. P. O. Lucas of Pacific avenue, and Miss Saxton for Magnolia. All these reports showed marked increases in enrollment and an active membership, with much practical work accomplished. In intermediate schools the hot lunch problem has been solved through the P. T. A.'s. Pacific avenue's presidents proudly reported a membership of 541.

Mrs. Hanning, chairman of membership, reported 11 P. T. A.'s in Glendale, an enrollment of school children totaling 3724, and a P. T. A. membership of 2242.

Mrs. Crawford, chairman of education, reported that the most effective work in her department had been carried on through the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, and in that connection made interesting statements concerning the course it has been following this year.

Reports were also made by Mrs. Winona Crawford, chairman of patriotism; Mrs. Cline, chairman of magazines and emblems; Mrs. Alcholz, chairman of publicity; Miss Eva Daniels, chairman of visiting committee; Mrs. J. G. Huntley, chairman of juvenile court work; Mrs. J. I. Wernette, chairman of finance; and finally came the report of Mrs. White, the president. In it she expressed the warm appreciation of the efficient work of her fellow officers in the organization and said she felt very proud of the work they had accomplished this year. She referred to the district convention and to the honors there conferred on Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Kulp and R. D. White. She also mentioned the friendly desire manifest by the Chamber of Commerce to cooperate with the P. T. A. Mrs. White likewise referred to a letter she had received from Mrs. Ewing, enclosing a check for $5, the prize won by students of the art department of Glendale high to whom were awarded second prize in the poster contest put on by the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations in Washington. This check, she said, had been turned over to Miss Mueller, head of the department. In this connection, Mrs. White announced that first prize had been won by students at Oakland, Calif. high, and that Hollister, Calif. students had taken first prize in the grade school poster exhibit. Out of four prizes California had won three and that in the face of some excellent competition from all parts of the United States. This pleasing statement called for and won hearty applause. When it died away, Mrs. White remarked that Mrs. Ewing's letter had been signed "Fridulphus yours." These winning posters will constitute one of the interesting exhibits at the state convention.

President to Go to Convention
While on this subject of the state convention, Mrs. White told the presidents assembled that their associations would be entitled to send their presidents to the convention and a delegate for each 25 members or fraction thereof. At this juncture Superintendent White said that Mrs. White was wanted at the telephone. Mrs. Wernette was called to the chair and on motion of Mrs. Esselman, the federation voted to pay the expense of sending Mrs. White to the state convention at Oakland, and a messenger was dispatched to recall Mrs. White from the fake telephone summons, the reporters being cautioned not to mention Mr. White's duplicity. Mrs. White was somewhat overcome by this mark of regard, but expressed her appreciation.

Nominations Reported
Mrs. A. H. Brown presented the report of the nominating committee as follows: Mrs. John Robert White, president; Mrs. P. O. Lucas, vice-president; Mrs. M. S. Kuehny, recording secretary; Mrs. Percy Priest, treasurer; Mrs. H. V. Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Kinsey, historian; Mrs. H. V. Henry, auditor. For the office of parliamentarian, which Mrs. Brown herself has filled for two years, no nomination was made because no one could be found by the committee who was willing to run. As the constitution provides that an officer must serve until a successor is elected, the office was left open to be filled by the board.

City Library Boost
Mrs. White reported the party and conference with city library trustees the night previous, attended by herself, Superintendent White and Mrs. A. A. Barton, at which library needs in the shape of additional funds were discussed. With the acquiescence of the assembly, she appointed a committee consisting of R. D. White, Mrs. H. V. Brown and Mrs. P. O. Lucas, to draft a resolution requesting the city trustees to make a larger appropriation for the libraries of the city, said resolution to be signed by the president of each association on behalf of her organization.

Talk by Superintendent White
Superintendent White addressed the meeting on the filing of petitions for candidates for the board of education provided for under the new city charter. He also spoke of the school bond election a week from next Tuesday, and the advantage of organized effort to get the vote out. His third appeal was on behalf of the play to be put on by the City Teachers' Club to raise money to send a delegate to the N. E. A. convention in Des Moines.

The last item of business was the election to membership in the federation of the Magnolia P. T. A., on written application signed by Florence Gill, secretary.

PERSONAL MENTION
Charles and William Wasson who came to Glendale about two months ago from Kewanee, Ill., have decided to remain permanently. They are making their home with their uncle, J. C. Wasson of 623 East Acadia street.

H. H. Bacon of 200 East Windsor road reports that some night prowler stole the clock from his auto while it was parked in front of his home last evening.

Warren Rigdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, 224 West Doran, will entertain his friend, Junior Bogardus of Los Angeles, over the week-end. Junior will be Warren's guest at some of the Chautauqua programs, and other good times are also being planned for his entertainment.

Mrs. Warrington of Ogden, Utah, who has been the guest of Miss Rose Stine of 433 East Acadia, and her sister, Mrs. Smith, left Tuesday for her home in the middle west. She and her hostesses, whom she visited three years ago, were friends years ago in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnston, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston of 111 North Everett street for the past month, left Tuesday in their auto for their home in Silverton, Col. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston motored to California about three months ago, visiting in various parts of the state.

Miss Mary Prime, teacher in the South Park school, Los Angeles, has been quite ill at her home, 630 North Maryland avenue, but is now improving.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Marlenee, 301 South Central avenue, returned last night from a several days' motor trip to Barstow, where they were the guests of Mrs. Marlenee's mother.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES

(By International News Service)
Fred Toney's pitching, hitting and fielding, featured the victory of the Giants over the Cardinals.

The Cubs slugged Ring and Baumgartner in timely fashion, defeating the Phillies.

The batting of Menoskey and the wildness of Mulrenan of the White Sox, helped Boston defeat Chicago.

Cobb made a bluff start of second in the eighth inning, drew a throw from Shang which Ward muffed, and permitted Buff to score the run which gave Detroit the second game with the Yankees.

Shocker allowed the Athletics only four hits at St. Louis.

Jimmy Johnson's home run proved the deciding factor in the game between the Reds and the Dodgers.

It took the Braves 13 innings to defeat Pittsburgh. Fillingim out-pitched Hamilton.

The Indians went on the warpath and drove Walter Johnson to the showers. Gardner, Stephenson and O'Neill were the heavy hitters.

The program begins at 2 o'clock and those who read the following list of its attractions will agree that it is indeed worth several times the price of admission:

1. Selection—H. S. Jazz Orchestra
2. Reading, selected—Howard Kent
3. Solo dance—Dorothy Dutton
4. (a) "I Love Thee" (Greig)
(b) "Elegie" (Massenet)

10. Selected—H. S. Jazz Orchestra

Accompanists, Mrs. C. H. Pendleton and Miss Gertrude Champlain.

ALL-STAR CAST AT GLENDALE THEATER

The role of the man who asked only "half a chance" to make good was one that made many demands on the player. It called for an actor of powerful physique and refinement who could portray both the Barbary coast prize fighter and the cultured and refined man of society and a brilliant lawyer. There could have been no better selection than Mahlon Hamilton, star of "Earthbound." Splendid as has been his screen career, his portrayal of "Sailor" Burke, and later John Steele, is a classic. Among men, women and children he will be admired.

Lillian Rich, whose delightful acting opposite H. B. Warner in "Felix O'Day" stamps her as a star of the future, gives a beautiful, sympathetic interpretation to her role of Jocelyn Wray, played at the age of ten by little Mary McAllister, one of the screen's best loved child actresses.

"Half a Chance" begins a three-day run at the Glendale theater today.

BRIDE AND GROOM ARE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Frederick Field and daughter, Miss Bessie Field, have had the pleasure of entertaining for a brief period a bride and groom on their honeymoon trip, in Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Goodsell who were married in Berkeley about a week ago with a big church wedding, a double wedding, by the way, as the sister of Mrs. Goodsell, Miss Katherine Denman, was at the same time wedded to Rev. Gordon Chapman and has gone with him to Japan to engage in missionary work. Mr. Goodsell is a nephew of Mrs. Field. He and his wife were graduated from the University of California. He served in France during the world war, and after her graduation Mrs. Goodsell went to Slam for two years of missionary work. The young people left Tuesday night for Modesto, where Mr. Goodsell will have charge of a large ranch as manager.

ENTERTAINS HOUSE GUEST

Mrs. L. W. Needham and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Ayars, 315 North Orange street, had as their houseguest yesterday, Mrs. S. L. Ferguson of Boston, who has been passing the winter in Southern California.

The Other Card

By MARY ANN FORD

(The characters and situations described in this story are suggested by incidents coming under the writer's notice in the daily routine of life.)

"Forget it, mother. Come have a smoke. It pleases me to know that you are modern in at least one respect. It's a seven-day wonder though, how you ever learned it." Mamma Garden reached for a cigaret. They were nearly as good as the old cornob pipes, she reflected.

Laura's headaches grew more and more frequent. Expensive flowers, delicious candy, new novels and expressive notes filled the invalid's room. But neither Ellis nor Mrs. Newport called in person.

Ellis sat in the Newport living room, enjoying to the fullest extent the good springs of a genuine leather-upholstered davenport. Mrs. Newport cuddled into the curve of his arm. He kissed her and called her sweet, endearing names and she promised undying devotion.

"Birt, take me away with you, far away from this old gossiping town," she pleaded. But Ellis' sense of honor prevented such a procedure. "Cry all you like, little girl," he consoled, gently smoothing her pretty hair. "Now let me explain this situation to you. This is your home, your husband's interests are here, and you are the greatest thing in his life. It is your womanly influence which has sent him far up the ladder of fame. It is you and you alone who can send him higher. Without you, he would grow old and quickly crumble into nothingness. You married him for better or worse. You cannot heedless break that solemn vow. It is one of the tragedies of life that you should by the laws of God and man be bound to another when your love belongs to me, as I know it does, little girl. It is a great misfortune for all of us. Look at Laura Garden, for instance. You and I know why she spends her days cooped up into that little apartment. She is dying of a broken heart, starving for the affection which are yours. Surely, little girl, you know I love you, but let us be big and brave enough to do our duty."

Mrs. Newport's tears were no longer silent. Big choking sobs shook her romantic being.

Into the dim light came a figure, the figure of Newport. Ellis sprang to his feet. Mrs. Newport flung herself face downward on the cushions. Newport stood there, quiet, as Ellis had expected, but not very white. He knew it would come tremblingly. But it didn't. Newport walked over to the table and snapped on the lights. "There's a train out at 11:30. You'd better phone for reservations. I'll have the lady's things packed and sent after you if you'll be kind enough to leave your address."

Ellis began to see daylight.

"You—you can't do this, Newport, she's your wife—"

"And as such I have the privilege to give her to the man of her choice." That's how Ellis found himself with a wife. Newport gave him his orders, and he followed them to the letter. A year later he found himself securely married to her. It was the first time Ellis has ever gotten himself tangled up with a minister and marriage license. He resented it and longed for the old life of freedom.

On the front page of the daily news word came to him that Newport and Laura were married. He felt somewhat relieved. It was a genuine pleasure to know that others were miserable.

Still he was cross and irritable. His wife became uneasy and in desperation sought medical aid for him. The physician put him on a milk diet and took all forms of tobacco away from him.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

One of the big things coming off next week will be of special interest to Sunday school workers will be the District Sunday School convention which takes place in Pasadena the 19th and 20th. Large delegations usually go from this city, and it is probable that Glendale will be represented on the program.

ENERGETIC WORK BY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Miss Ida Waite, principal of Colorado school, reports that splendid work has been done by children of the grade schools in the sale of tickets for the Chautauqua course, more than $500 worth having been sold by them according to her records.
